Subscription of Medical latest edition e Books with CBME aligned and AI powered must be available both on mobile & desktop.

e-books platform with development of content (eBooks) aligned with the new Competency-Based Medical Education (CBME) curriculum. Practical aspects of teaching methodology incorporated to support individualized learning, flexibility, innovative assessments, and preparedness for practice.

To enhance our learning platform, we are seeking solutions that leverage AI to improve planning, writing, and assessment processes. The platform should feature AI-driven tools for summarization, study notes, and automated referencing, thereby increasing study efficiency and including e-books. Interactive learning is a key requirement, allowing users to engage with content through highlighting, annotating, and peer collaboration.

The solution should also offer 24/7 access to updated content, ensuring students can study anytime, anywhere. Additionally, the platform should include features like a digital bookshelf, smart study tools, advanced search, and options for user customization to accommodate diverse learning needs. All books should be of latest edition.

To facilitate the integration process, access will be established using the static IP address details provided by the institute, ensuring a seamless connection tailored to the specific requirements.
